

Mrs Smith is nearly 60 years old. She is our idol. She is always an amazing person. Being tall and elegant, she stands out from the others. She has a sharp chin and a pale face. We call her 'Miss Pony' because she always ties a ponytail. She is our English teacher.

Mrs Smith is an unpredictable lady. No one knows much about her. Even though she is unpredictable, she is sociable, thoughtful and considerate. As an honest person, she admits that she was actually a shy woman when she was young. So, she did not have any friends when she was in primary school. She went to a good secondary school but still she could not make friends with anyone. Later there was a huge turning point in her life. It all came with her teacher, Mr Wong, who was a huge support to her. He told her that she could not live alone in her life and she needed some friends to support her, to give her advice and to comfort her when she met problems. He encouraged her to join more activities to boost her confidence and make more friends. After that, she joined many activities and became more and more sociable.

Mrs Smith is very popular at school. She gets along well with all students and teachers. She is like our mother. Though she is demanding, she wants her students to get good grades in examinations. She is always surrounded by students because she is kind and patient to everyone. Many students admire her.

For me, Mrs Smith is like my mother. She teaches me many things, and she encourages me to learn to be a better person. I would like to say thank you to Mrs Smith for her teaching in our school and I wish her happiness and good luck in the future.
