My smartphone

I'm using iPhone 6. It's really convenient. It's thin with a touchscreen. It is white and the back is golden.

I bought the phone so that I can send emails and text messages anytime, anywhere. It has other functions as well. I use Siri chat to answer my questions instantly. This is very useful.

Besides, I usually use my phone to download and install applications from the Internet. There are so many different types of apps available, for example, games apps, educational apps and social networking apps.

My favourite app is QQ Music because I like listening to music on public transport. I really enjoy music and I learn a lot from the lyrics of songs. Besides, I like using its camera to take pictures. It can record every memorable or funny moment.

Some teenagers are addicted to mobile phones. They use them no matter they are eating or watching TV, and some even sleep with their phone under their pillow. Hence, everything has its pros and cons.
