

Locked Up in A Library

Dear Micky,

How are you? You won't believe what I did last night. Chris sent me a message last night saying that he was locked in the school library! Let me tell you what happened.

At first, I thought he was kidding me. I doubted whether he was telling me the truth. So, I took out my Macbook and traced his location. To my surprise, it was true. I packed all my things quickly and ran back to school. When I arrived at the library, I saw him sitting behind the glass door in the library. He was locked in the library! He could not come out without the key. I tried to find the key and I knew that Miss Lui had kept the key, but I could not contact her. Then I tried to talk to Chris but he could not hear me. At the same time, I got a message from him. He told me that he was starving. My other friends rushed to me and they all got the same message from Chris.

I saw them holding bags of food in their hands. We found that the situation was very funny. Then we all burst out into laughter. Fortunately, a janitor came and opened the door for Chris. We saw Chris leaning against a bookshelf. When he saw us, he jumped up and took the bags of food immediately. He was as hungry as a wolf. We all laughed at him.

I think it is so funny and you can ask him about what happened when you see him.

Take care

Jason
