We all love watching movies and films. And there is a big variety of them. I love all kinds of movies, but there is one exception.

I am not a big fan of horror movies, jumpy scares and spooky stuffs. However, I actually know a lot of things about ghosts. I have read tons of books about them, as well as aliens, monsters and mythical creatures.

As mentioned above, I love all kinds of movies, no matter action, adventure, comedy, animation or musical ones. I can learn new words, interesting ideas and funny jokes from them. It is a great way to learn and entertain oneself. Also, I can learn more about western pop culture!

I can't say I am an expert of movies but I am certain that I know quite a lot about them, such as background music, actors, actresses, directors and features. What's more, I think a lot of people have the same thought as I do --- supporting characters are often more popular and attractive than the main characters. We all love the adorable, charming, pretty, smart or funny characters in the movie. For example, in the film 'Transformers', don't you think that Bumblebee, the sidekick, is even more entertaining than the alpha Optimus Prime? Bumblebee is funny, friendly and powerful.

Nowadays, movies are part of our life. I can't wait to see more high-quality movies coming up in the next few years. The choices are endless.
