Fidget spinners : A popular toy among kids

Toys are not that popular among kids nowadays as they have all kinds of technology gadgets for their entertainment. However, a fidget spinner is an exception.

Fidget spinners originated in 1990 but did not become popular until recent years. On the video sharing website Youtube, there are about 6,970,000 videos about fidget spinners and at least half of them got over a million views. People everywhere, from school, office to home, have been talking about it.

Fidget spinner is a toy that you place between your thumb and finger. When you give it a flick, it spins. It becomes a craze among kids --- thanks to the cheap price that every child can afford. They bring it to school and play with friends readily.

Fidget spinners have received both positive and negative opinions. On the positive side, they can help students to relieve stress. Some experts even say they can help children with autism and ADHD. Having said that, there are also drawbacks with this toy. It can distract kids from lessons when they play it in class. Children may even hurt themselves when flicking them around.

In conclusion, this trend will be fading sooner or later but fidget spinners will definitely become one of the most popular toys in history.
