Title: A Kind-hearted and Helpful Man

A Kind-hearted and Helpful Man

Have you seen or listened to any Good People Good Deeds? I haven't seen any but I heard a story of good deeds from my friend. Although not the entire world pay attention to it, I think he is a very good man.

My friend told me this story in January in 2013. One day, my friend went to a bookshop to buy some books. At that time, he saw an old man come in and want to buy some books, too. When the old man had already chosen his books, he went to the cashier's desk, but he didn't have enough money. The checkout operator asked the old man, “you didn't have enough money but why do you need to buy the books?” and the old man answered “I need to buy these for my grandson to study.” After cashier had understood this situation, he not only asked the old man not to pay money, but also gave him more exercises and money to help him.

In fact, if people do not bother about rewards, this world will be very peaceful. And then, if everyone does one good deeds, there will be more kind-hearted people in this world. This is my kind reminder: anyway, boys, girls, old people or young people, we can help one another.
