

A Memorable Food Experience

Written by Yau Suki, 1C, 20

The most memorable food for me is egg waffles, which is a traditional street food in Hong Kong. The freshly baked egg waffles are very fragrant. I used to see egg waffles for the first time in Hong Kong and thought it was as small as glutinous rice balls.

It is very soft, and the taste is very special and rich. There are many different flavours to choose from. My favourite one is chocolate egg waffle.

In addition, I can add some ice cream on the egg waffle to enrich the taste. Every time on my birthday, my mother will make her own egg waffles for me to eat. My mother rarely cooks food. So waffles have also become a food that is of great significance to me.
