

I have a dream

I have a dream it is that all people in the world have a warm home, including financially disadvantaged people, street people, single-parent family, etc. They all need it.

I hope they have a warm house to get out of the bad weather outside and have a soft bed and cozy pillow, no need to be beautiful but comfortable. In the house, I hope that they have lot of healthy food, maybe some eggs, meat, vegetable, etc.

The house need not be big, but need to be safe and comfortable, this is the basic thing that house of all sizes should have. We are all human beings and no one deserves to be left without a home.

I hope people need not be too busy with their work that they forget to enjoy their life.

I wish for a beautiful earth, where there is no pain, hunger and wars, but is only filled with lovely smile and sweet tears. Although it is a difficult and great dream, I don't want it to be just a dream, but can turn into reality one day.

This...is my dream, a forever dream.
