

My dream job

Many teens have different kinds of dream jobs like doctor, police officer, teacher... etc. However, mine is more exotic -- I want to be an astronaut. Why do I want to be an astronaut? It's because of Neil Armstrong. He is my inspiration. It all started when he landed on the moon as the first human to ever do it.

Firstly, many people ask me why I want to be an astronaut. It is because I want to be the first person to walk on Mars. Since my inspiration, Neil Armstrong, was the first person to walk on the moon, I want to achieve something greater, which is walking on Mars. The best part about being an astronaut is that I can go to outer space for expedition. There are so many interesting and amazing places to explore in outer space. Another good part is that astronauts get high salaries. Therefore, I can have fun in outer space and earn a lot of money. However, there are also downsides of this job. For example, you need to have years of training and have to be qualified in many aspects like Chemistry, Physics and Biology... etc. This means that you have to be really hard-working and smart. This may discourage some people in pursuing this dream, but I think the advantages outweigh the disadvantages because the high-paid salary and the exploration of outer space will be worth it at the end even though you have to study and train a lot.

Secondly, unfortunately, I don't have any relevant work experience. Although I don't have any relevant work experience, I can still try to apply for internship in the future. Therefore, this doesn't discourage me from pursuing my dream job.

Thirdly, there are a lot of skills required to become an astronaut. My skills include communication and social skills, which are really crucial if I want to be an astronaut. With my communication and social skills, I can communicate with my fellow workers when I go to outer space for missions. I can bond with them easily and better since I have good social skills. In addition, I have very good patience and I am hard-working too. These qualities are important since becoming an astronaut takes time and hard work. Therefore, I think my skills can help me become an amazing astronaut.

Lastly, unlike jobs like cashiers and workers, which can be replaced by robots and machinery in the future, an astronaut can't be replaced by them. For example, only a human can know if the outer space is habitable. Therefore, there are many opportunities in the future if you want to become an astronaut. My future plan is to go on Mars expeditions and do missions there. It sounds very interesting and I am also very curious about what Mars is like.

In conclusion, my dream job is to become an astronaut and explore the outer space.
