

The Art of Photography

by Andrew Ng (3E)

Have you ever found yourself lost in a moment, where everything around you seems to pause? That's the beauty of time, and in that passing moment lies the power of a photograph. My hobby is photography, and I love capturing anything interesting I come across. Whenever I see something that catches my eye, I make sure to capture that moment. Photography isn't just for those who have expensive cameras; today, even smartphones are excellent tools for taking stunning photos.

People have different interests when it comes to photography. Some enjoy capturing beautiful landscapes, while others might focus on grand, ancient trees or adorable pets like dogs and cats. Each of these subjects provides a wonderful opportunity to tell a story through images, showing the diversity of life.

For me, a photo is more than just a picture; it represents a moment in time, filled with emotion and narrative. Every snapshot has its own story behind it, whether it's a serene sunset, a playful pet, or a vibrant street scene. As the famous photographer Ansel Adams once said, "You don't make a photograph just with a camera. You bring to the act of photography all the pictures you have seen, the books you have read, the music you have heard, the people you have loved."

Photography also allows us to connect with others. It opens up conversations and brings people together by sharing our perspectives. It teaches us to observe the world more closely, and to appreciate the little details we often overlook in our busy lives. This is what makes photography such a rewarding hobby - it allows us to freeze time and share our unique experiences with others.

So, whether you're using a high-end camera or just your phone, remember that every interesting moment is worth capturing. Embrace your creativity and enjoy the journey of storytelling through your lens!
