

4A(29) Vinty Yau

Writing A Restaurant Review

Atum Dessertant

Causeway Bay

Recently re-opened in Causeway Bay, it is a trendy Western restaurant serving steak, pasta and dessert. I decided to pay it a visit to see if it is still worthy of the high praise it has always enjoyed.

The entrance was with painted white doors, leading you into a neat and classy decorated interior. Atum Dessertant provided a spacious area and made you feel more comfortable. Elegant decoration and romantic music enhanced the atmosphere. The seats are cozy and commodious.

I ordered its signature dish- Improvisation. It is a famous dessert of this restaurant. This dish contains a brownie with spectacular sauce made from their own recipe. Beside the brownie, there was ice cream which is also homemade. The chef would show you the steps of the dish in front of you. The portion was generous and superb and it was enough for two persons. The dinner cost $240 and the price is reasonable.

Regarding the service, the waiters served patiently and efficiently. The food was served in about ten minutes after the order. In conclusion, the service is excellent and the prices are affordable.

Everything there was fabulous and exotic. It was a great place for girls because their desserts were savoury and tasty.

4D Angel Chuen

Writing A Restaurant Review

Embankment Vietnamese Restaurant
Cigna Tower, Causeway Bay

Embankment is a Vietnamese restaurant near Causeway Bay MTR station. It features authentic butter chicken wings and I wanted to see if it was really good.

The restaurant is spacious and well designed, with bar counter and tables. However, the décor is not very impressive as the interior is decidedly plain. There are some televisions on the walls. It offers a relaxing, casual and pleasant atmosphere.

The service, though, was excellent and notable. The staff were efficient and friendly. With regard to food, I can assure you that it was of the highest quality. The place served amazing chili crabs that excited your taste buds. Another speciality is butter chicken wings. It was not only tasty but also juicy. The chicken skin was crispy. The raw beef slices noodles in soup was fabulous and the portion was generous. It also offers an adequate choice of liquor and snacks for customers watching football matches there in the evening. The ingredients were fresh and abundant. If you want to have a place to hold a party, you can consider it. However, you should make a reservation in advance and the prices vary in different sessions.

In conclusion, this restaurant will be a good choice if you want to eat Vietnamese food. I rate it four stars since the food is fresh and delicious. The service is efficient and the environment is relaxing. However, the prices are a little steep.