

Curyrs Law 4D

10th October, 2014

Composition 1 - Writing a travel guide

This summer, I was on holiday in Australia. It was fantastic.

Australia is a place of speciality and you can feel its unique nature as it is the only place that Koalas and Kangaroos live in. It is surrounded by the Indian and Pacific Ocean in the southern hemisphere. If you would like to get there, you just have to take a flight for about 11 hours and it costs $8000 since it is pretty far away from Hong Kong.

Here, I would like to introduce a deluxe trip to you. In Australia, there are many types of attractions and natural scenic spots. I would like to introduce to you 3 of them. I suggest you visit the Great Barrier Reef because of the stunning sceneries of the corals under the water. You may go scuba-diving if you really want to greet the marine animals. You can enrich your knowledge of marine life and it is interesting as well. What is more, Ayers Rock in Uluru-Kata Tjuta National Park is a must-see spot because it is the biggest rock in the world. You can discover it when you still have a long way to reach it as it seems to be coloured in dark red. However, it is red because of it contains iron oxide. In fact, Australia is a place in which almost all areas contain iron oxide. This is the special feature of Australia. If you want to enjoy warm sunbathing and the cool ocean, you must go to Golden Coast as it is quite a famous place. For transportation, air-buses are the most efficient way.

For accommodation, I would recommend some deluxe resorts since they always include a private beach, a spacious swimming pool, or even a golf course. To travel across Australia, it is worth renting a car and a driver to serve you to go anywhere you like since it is more convenient than waiting for some public buses, which may be too dangerous to a traveler. Secondly, you must bring a bottle of sunblocker and a pair of sunglasses since you might get hurt by the strong sun light in Australia.

If you love to explore nature, you should go to Australia because there are many kinds of unique animals. Your stress of living in Hong Kong would be released while you are visiting some scenic spots in Australia. You will learn how to protect the environment and your awareness of environmental protection might be enhanced as well.