As summer holiday approaches, a fruitful school year is coming to an end. This represents an end to many activities including inter-class competitions, project-based learning and post-examination activities. Let's take a look at the activities

Extra-curricular activities

Both S1 and S2 students fought hard in the inter-class volleyball, football and basketball competitions, where they showcased their team spirit and sportsmanship. Look at the smiley faces of this year's champion of volleyball and football competitions.

Eager to Learn

On Project Presentation Day, S1 students performed a self-directed play on stage with original backdrop and music score . Their performances were rewarded by praises and rounds of applause.

Sharing Corner

At the end of the year, it is time for students to reflect on some of the most helpful or impressive activities held during the school year. Let's read some of their thoughts.
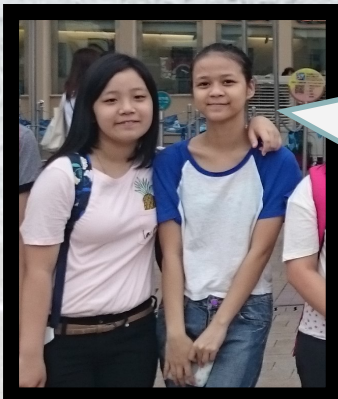

1B Samantha

I think the most helpful activity this year is the Chinese Storytelling Competition. Telling Chinese stories allows me to learn more about Chinese culture and compete with students from other schools.

1B Angelene

For the summer activities, we went to museums and I can meet a lot of new friends and expand my social circle.

2D Win Pa Pa

I think the most impressive activity this year is the sweet dumpling making. We learned about different Chinese traditional dessert and how to make one. The dumplings were so delicious. I would like to do this again if I have a chance to.

2D Francine

The most impressive event or the most helpful activity this year was the after-school tutorial class. It is helpful because we can ask questions about homework to improve on our studies and it is also a tranquil place to study. We treasure the supportive environment because there are friends to study with and we can enjoy our free time together.
