2020/2021 Non-Chinese Speaking Students Joyful Learning Group Newsletter Issue 1

16th November, 2020

FINALLY we are all back to school! It is nice to see all the students safe and sound after the summer break. Although most of the school activities were cancelled due to the pandemic, we are trying our best to schedule cultural events for our NCS students to encourage them to get involved with the new school life. Let's take a look at the pictures!

Eager to Learn

Cultural Learning Experience for Students and Teachers

Student's Workshop

On the other hand, our S.1 NCS students attended a cultural sharing on Chinese traditional festivals. Although they were not allowed to sit close to one another, all of them managed to join the discussion and brought back plenty of snacks and souvenirs.

Teacher's Workshop

The Fung Ling Spirit, eager to learn does not only apply to students, but also our teachers! 26 of them joined a cultural learning workshop to know more about the cultural background of our NCS students from religion to food culture. What an inspiring day!

Do you enjoy your lessons at home?

I've learned a lot of new stuff even though there was no school. Online learning is very convenient. All you need is wake up and join the class.

Hasnat S.2B

I felt happy because I could get to see my teachers and friends through online class and know that they were doing fine, but it was sad at the same time because I don't get to see them in real life.

Zachry S.2B

It is easier to have class online since we don't need to wake up early. I especially like Chinese and English online classes. They were fun but sometimes I need to catch up with the Chinese homework.

Irra S.2B

It was fun to have online class. I had more time to do homework and more time to learn something else because lesson time was shorter.

Alex S.2B

It was a hard time during class suspension because of the lack of student-teacher interaction. I wished I could see my teachers and classmates in person.

Yashika S.3D

During my class suspension, I couldn't do much since no one should go out too often. Instead, I read some books. In my online lessons, I tried my best to keep up with the lecture. I hope the pandemic can end as soon as possible.

Charles S.3D

I mostly stayed at home during class suspension. For most of my free time, I surfed the net and did some revision. Online learning was difficult and I need to spend time on catching up with the material.

Tihansa S. 3D

Other than having online classes, I read some history books and went running during class suspension. online learning is fun and convenient.
