2021/2022 Non-Chinese Speaking Students

Joyful Learning Group Newsletter Issue 2

18th July, 2022

The pandemic has disrupted the teaching and learning at school as students had to constantly switch between online and offline learning with a one-and-a-half-month special holiday in between. Despite the complication, Students thoroughly enjoyed their precious time at school. Below are some of their achievements and highlights of the beautiful school life this year.

FUNG LING SPIRIT - Ready for service

In addition to the excellent academic performance, many of our NCS students are devoted to serving alongside the locals in different positions at school, ranging from prefect, English Ambassador to Student Union executives. Some also joined some out-of-school competitions. Their willingness to work and share with different ethnic groups has not only gained recognition from the Home Affairs Department of Hong Kong, but 6 of our outstanding students are also awarded with a $2000 Harmony Scholarship. Congratulations to all of them!

The S3 Basketball Final was such an intense game!

Hugging and jumping! Students are celebrating a fantastic goal with their teammates.

In collaboration with the school sports teams, our group has organized inter-class competitions for a variety of ball games, including football, volleyball and basketball. The NCS students showed great spirit and teamwork while playing with the local students. Please give a round of applause to 3E and 4E, the champions of basketball and football this year!

The Saturday Chinese Enchantment Course was useful as we would learn lots of words in every lesson.

As the fun and meaningful school year is coming to the end, this is the perfect time to look back and reflect on the amazing moments.

I think the most helpful activity is Chinese Poem Workshop because I can learn how to write Chinese poems, which helps me improve my Chinese.

I think Ocean Park is the most impressive activity held in the early school term because it helped me make new friends and bond with them.
